The President's Column

By David McFarling, NCRPA President

As I write this 2020, the year of COVID is thankfully behind us, and hopefully 2021 will see the end of the COVID crises. The early bad news for 2021 is that the safe haven for gun owners that was the Trump Presidency is over, gone with the wind so to speak. So what does Mr. Bidens rise to the presidency along with control the House of Representatives and a 50/50 Senate mean to us N.C. gun owners . Nothing Good.

Only one week into the 4 years of gun control hell to come there is already talk of 30 to 50% federal excise taxes on guns and ammunition, HR 5717. This bill also contains language requiring federal permits to purchase firearms and ammo. On January 25 Fox News reported a plan to make all guns, not just semi-automatic guns, but all guns, NFA regulated firearms. That is the same as machine guns, suppressors and short barreled rifles and shotguns requiring registration with the federal government and a $200 tax stamp. These draconian requirements on firearms ownership just in the first three business days.

The only thing I can say for sure is that we are now on the defensive in the gun control fight on all levels local, state and federal. The gun grabbers in what ever political form they take democrat, progressive, socialist, communist are going to grab everything they can by hook or by crook while the grabbing is possible. The gun control that is possible under these circumstances could make us long to return to the Clinton days of assault weapons bans and magazine capacity limits.

What can we do to circumvent this insanity? We are going to have to be ready to respond to each threat in a quick and effective manor. Find out who your congressman is. If you don't know do a google search. Write letters, send emails call and make your views known, but be nice and polite. No matter how mad you may become don't yell, curse, say mean personal or make threats. Such messages are disregarded at best and may get you a visit from law enforcement or worse. You are dealing with intelligent dedicated people. You can't scare or bully them. Our best hope is to show them we know our constitutional rights and that we will not be denied them.

Another thing you can do is become involved in your local political scene. Join local groups and support good solid candidates who support the constitution. Join and encourage your friends and family to join pro gun organizations such as NCRPA and NRA. The days of thinking that you don't have to worry because your right to keep and bear arms are "guaranteed" under the constitution are over. This new breed of gun grabber has no regard for the constitution. The first and second amendments are in serious trouble and you and I are the only ones who can save them.

On the state scene we are hoping for a fairly calm year in regard to gun control. The state house is concentrating on the budget, election law and redistricting first and hopefully gun control will sit on the back burner especially in view of the "stuff" going on in Washington. In 2020 the NCRPA was able to aid in passing HB 652 called the Church bill. One of the main points of 652 was a provision allowing concealed carry permit holders to legally carry on church property where there is a school as long as the school is not in session. Support for 652 came from republicans, democrats, law enforcement, black political organizations and others. It truly was a bipartisan bill. Unfortunately Gov. Cooper doesn't like anything gun related and vetoed the bill. In 2021 Our NCRPA legislative team and our lobbyist will be working on several pieces of pro gun legislation in the pipeline and protecting your gun rights in N.C.

Beware: Gun Grabber Speak
“weak gun laws” or “easy access to guns”

*A.K.A. code phrase:
“We haven’t been able to outlaw everything yet.”*

My two cents on “gun grabber” speak: As you all know, recent Supreme Court decisions interpreting Constitutional law, particularly District of Columbia v. Heller, followed by McDonald v. City of Chicago, very broadly protect individual (belonging to an organized militia is not required) rights to keep and bear arms for traditional lawful purposes, with firearms that are in current common use. Heller is a significant basis for the recent 9th Circuit Federal Court of Appeals invalidation of California’s magazine limit law.

The current composition of the U.S. Supreme Court is favorable right now for continuing to enforce Heller’s broad protections. 2A opponents like to pretend that Heller does not exist, but Heller is the law of the land, broadly interpreting and reinforcing lawful gun owners’ rights much like African-Americans’ rights to equal access to education were broadly reinforced in the earlier 1950s Brown v. Board of Education U.S. Supreme Court decision.

I am hoping that the NRA will retain enough dry powder to continue its important work supporting litigation. Most of what I see the “gun grabbers” trying to enact is very clearly unconstitutional under Heller, the 2A, and the broader U.S. Constitution. It will take litigation to defend against the unconstitutional gun grabbing proposals that will continue to spring up.

If you folks have not read Wikipedia’s discussion of the District of Columbia v. Heller decision, here is a link below. This Wikipedia article does a very good job in my opinion of explaining and summarizing the Constitutional protections Heller reinforces for law abiding gun owners, and outlining the history behind Heller.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/District_of_Columbia_v._Heller

The Heller decision itself is also very educational, with Justice Scalia going to great effort to research and discuss prior gun rights history:

<https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/07pdf/07-290.pdf>

It’s good of course to understand these protections well as you go about your own communities, reminding people that the law is on your side.

Jr. Rifle Team 2021

2020 is behind us now and may I say good riddance. The Jr. rifle team back at work and hoping to get to shoot a little bit in 2021. We had our first practice on February 6 and we will shoot our first match for the year on 2/28-29 at Camp Butner. We have five young hard holders on the roster and provided we can find enough powder and small rifle primers we are hopeful to have a good season.

Plans are to practice one Saturday and shoot one match each month from now until the National Matches in August. We will be attending the National Matches at Camp Perry Ohio held the first week of August. As with any shooting season there are a million details that have to go right, not to mention good old luck in order to be successful. But on the other side of the coin if we get to shoot at all and just go to the nationals it will beat 2020 hands down. Let us hope that the scourge of Covid 19 is a thing of the past sooner rather than later.

Chairman West's Monday Message for 1.11.21

Posted 1.11.2021 - by Allen West

“Cool Heads Always Prevail”

In my 22 years of active duty service in the US Army, I learned many lessons in leadership. I would be happy to share them with you, as they are enshrined on the 3x5 cards I carry. Having served in combat, my first combat tour was 30 years ago in Operation Desert Shield/Storm. It became very apparent that when bullets begin to fly, it is the resilient, resolved, and focused commander that inspires victory. I have always stated, “no one follows a Frantic Fannie into combat.”

At this tumultuous time in our American history, I must reiterate this leadership maxim: “Cool Heads Always Prevail.”

This past week, after the disturbing events of Wednesday, my cell phone blew up, and it continued through the weekend. The prevailing question was, “Colonel, what do we do now?”

As I drove home after our Republican Party of Texas Legislative Priorities Rally on Saturday in Austin, I had to make that “pause for the cause” in Hillsboro. I decided to fill up the gas tank at the 7-Eleven there off I-35, and a young black man from Arlington, who was at the rally, came up to me. He asked, “Sir, can we stop the communist takeover of America?” I looked at him resolutely and told him that we sure can, and that was why we were at the Capitol building rallying.

Having been in combat, I know the prudence of being calculating — yet swift to act — when engaging your adversary. I would recommend y’all read about the battles of Alexander the Great. I have had folks ask me when will President Trump enact the Insurrection Act and deploy the military? To that I respond: I pray he does not. Now, to the anxious, angry, frustrated, and upset, that is not the answer they desire.

The Army taught me the five forms of maneuver against the enemy: infiltration, penetration, turning movement, envelopment, and frontal assault. Thirty years ago, our forces in Kuwait and Iraq conducted what is probably the largest envelopment operation in military history since Hannibal’s successful double envelopment of the Roman legions at the Battle of Cannae. The problem with Republicans is that we often choose the worst form of maneuver, the frontal assault. Just study Pickett’s charge on the third day of the Battle of Gettysburg.

The real issue from the 2020 election cycle has less to do with mythical beasts — like the Kracken — and, more with the understanding as to how the left enveloped Republican State legislatures. The left targeted and encircled key Republican State legislatures in places like Georgia, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Arizona, among others, and changed election law by way of governors, secretaries of state, and judicial activism. They relied on the belief that these State legislatures would be slow, or even reticent, to respond. They implemented such unconstitutional actions such as universal mail-in ballots and changing ballot signature verification standards.

Governors enacted emergency declarations to deal with a “pandemic” that has a 99.96 percent recovery rate. These executives made us believe that this “pandemic” suspended the rule of law, election law. As well, the left has been incredibly effective in preventing the review of voter rolls in states all over the country.

State legislatures need to reaffirm their enumerated legislative powers and erase dictates that say only a governor can call them back into session.

They need to refine the meaning of an emergency.

The number one Legislative Priority for the Republican Party of Texas is Election Integrity. We need to tighten up our election laws, enforce voter registration roll reviews, disallow the registration and voting of illegal immigrants, ban the use of universal mail-in balloting — which is not the same as absentee ballots — and reduce the time for “early voting.” Heck, we even had the County Clerk in Harris County expand “curbside” voting into heavily Democrat precincts. But, not only here in Texas, this has to be a priority for Republican-held State legislatures across the nation. There was a reason why Eric Holder was targeting state legislatures.

Lastly, there have to be real penalties for enacting voter fraud and conducting illegal voting activities. It becomes rather Pavlovian if there are not.

Next, on the first Tuesday in May of 2021, we will have municipal level elections in Texas. Let’s be honest, these elections are not “non-partisan.” We must focus on winning elections for City Council, School Board, County Commissioner, County Clerk, heck, Water Management District elections. If we want better election activities in our respective counties, that means controlling more county commissions in the state of Texas.

I know, everyone says that it is too hard. Do you want to know what is hard? Try changing the engine out of a US Army M1 Abrams tank in the middle of winter in South Korea. I watched that back in 1995. Getting off your keister and finding good quality candidates that can run in local elections, where often the turnout is less than 10 percent ain't hard . . . but it is vital. I want you to think about who is making the decisions about elections at the local level, yet another way leftists have penetrated and infiltrated our cities, schools, and county-level administrations.

The next vital play comes with the redistricting of political office districts that only comes every 10 years. Since we maintained a strong majority in both the Texas House and Senate, we control this process. This will shape the political landscape of Texas, and other states, for the next 10 years. This was the main reason why Eric Holder, Michael Bloomberg, and Barack Obama dumped some $25 million into Texas.

Texas Republicans control this process and must realize this strategic opportunity, and not concern themselves with "fairness" to the progressive socialist left. I think we are getting a lesson right now in the ruthlessness of the left. We can ill afford to be Neville Chamberlains and believe that appeasement, compromise, and acquiescence to the leftists are viable courses of action.

That brings me to this final point, as I know there are still those doggone hot heads out there who want a "revolution." Just remember, when you read the Declaration of Independence, that our Founding Fathers sought every possible manner of petition to King George. But our history, both as a state and a nation, evidences the one thing that we will not tolerate: disarmament.

In America, we have always recognized that an armed individual is a citizen, and an unarmed one is a subject. This is why another of the Republican Party of Texas Legislative Priorities is Constitutional Carry.

Remember these dates in our history: April 19, 1775, and October 2, 1835. These are two dates where the Sons of Liberty in Massachusetts and Texians in Gonzales responded to the threat and imminent objective of a tyrannical government to disarm them. In both cases, the actions on Lexington Green and the field of Gonzales spurred forth movements toward independence.

If the progressive socialist left — aka the Democrat Party — seeks to pursue a "mandatory gun buyback" initiative, then they will have followed suit with the previous tyrants who dared the same. They will have, indeed, doused themselves with gasoline and struck a match.

The way forward is not to conduct a frontal assault, but envelop the left, outmaneuver them, play chess, not checkers, and anticipate their next move and block it. If the Bidenistas want open borders, we say no! If the Bidenistas want the Green New Deal and decimation of our oil and gas industry, we say no! If the leftists believe that they can mandate equality, we say no! National lockdowns, the decimation of our small businesses, and mandated mask-wearing, no more, unless government officials want to stop being paid. The best stimulus for our economy is small business.

The government does not exist to protect our health, that is our responsibility. Government exists to protect our rights . . . and that is not defined as the ideological agenda of the progressive socialist left.

We must be resolute, forthright, and stand like an immovable rock. We must school the left on the concept of federalism. After all, they believed that they could declare themselves "sanctuaries" for illegal immigrants. The left must be taught a firm lesson in the 10th Amendment.

However, what this will require is that Republicans can no longer be "Quislings." One thing the left, like any bully, relies upon is the lack of intestinal fortitude from us, their political opposition. Their use of fear, intimidation, coercion, threats, and violence (to which they never admit) are the means to their end. The left is playing a very dangerous game of duplicitous hypocrisy. It is evident and unacceptable. We can borrow a page from their Saul Alinsky rule book and let them see what principled American resistance looks like.

No, I am not scared. God did not give me, or you, a spirit of fear. What we do need are leaders who are calm, cool, and collected under fire, and who will not cower to the left. Yes, I am gonna be talking to someone about communication platforms. But, what we currently see from the left is abject totalitarianism, targeting members of the Trump administration to undermine their future livelihood. They are censoring conservatives, which is true fascism. But, with all of this, we must keep a cool head as our planning and execution must be flawless, as we frustrate the left into making tactical, and strategic, errors . . . causing their implosion.

A final word to bolster your spirit:

"THESE are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands by it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph."

Summer soldiers and sunshine patriots stay out of our way. We will let you know when it is safe to come outside. It is time to carpe diem!

Thank you for your support.

Does your North Carolina State Representative and State Senator know who you are?

If not, this is a particular good time because they're hearing from anti-gun activists right now!

Go to <https://ncleg.gov/FindYourLegislators> and make it a point to talk with your legislators. Defend your Second Amendment rights

And The Winners Are

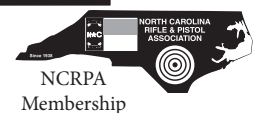

First I would like to thank all of you who participated in this years NCRPA Jr. Rifle Team raffle by purchasing tickets. This raffle is our main means of support and with out you, our loyal membership we would provably be washing cars for bullet and powder rather than practicing.

The winners of the 2020 prize guns are Larry Strayhorn of Durham N.C. and David S. Norton of Salisbury N.C. Mr. Strayhorn is now the proud owner of a Smith & Wesson MP15 and Mr. Norton gets the Ruger10/22. The guns will be delivered through B&B Firearms in Levelcross N.C.

I would also like to thank B&B Firearms for there help in acquiring and transferring the prize guns. For 2021 the raffle prize guns will be a CMP M-1 Garand and a Savage .22 rifle which is very accurate and suppressor ready. Again let me thank you from the bottom of my old tired heart for your really great support with out which we may not have a team at all.

David McFarling
Jr. Team Coach.

The NCRPA Jr. Rifle Team
Would like to thank our generous supporters

Without your continued support, we would not be able to continue our mission to teach, encourage and support the young shooters of N.C.

As I see It

by Walt Walter

Hello once again 2nd Amendment Patriots. Well, we now have a new President who long with his Vice-President have sworn an oath to destroy the NRA, meaning us, along with taking guns away from the general public. They know that this cannot be done in one fell swoop so their plan is to take away the “assault weapons” by either banning ownership or sponsoring a buyback. Don’t be fooled that would be confiscation. Next, they are planning on banning semi-automatic firearms both rifles and pistols.

Our one hope is that the United States Senate will keep the filibuster rule which means it will take 60 votes to override this rule. To overcome this hinderance the new President has promised to do some of this by executive orders so we’re not sure when this will come or what it will entail.

How do we overcome this situation? First of all, we must support the NRA-ILA. We need to write our federal representatives and senators encouraging them to oppose any and all gun legislation which would infringe on our rights to keep and bear arms.

Next, we need to do the same thing with our state representatives and senators encouraging them to also oppose any anti-gun legislation. The next thing we need to do is ensure that our local elections right down to dogcatcher has candidates who support our 2nd Amendment rights. No matter what venue we are dealing with we need to be vocal in our support for pro 2nd Amendment office holders as well as being vocal against those who oppose our 2nd Amendment rights. As an aside if it involves our 1st Amendment rights we need to do the same, be vocal. If we don’t get involved now we risk losing our rights both 1st and 2nd amendment.

Whatever we do, we need to do it legally and exhaust all legal methods available to us before we consider other avenues.

Another thing we need to do right now is grow our membership in the NCRPA and NRA. Politicians look at numbers and those groups with big number of members are usually listened to. In this issue of state shots, you will find a membership application. Make five copies and recruit five new members. If that doesn’t work we have a link on our web site where anyone can join and pay by credit card, <https://www.ncrpa.org/join-the-ncrpa-2/> . We also have a Facebook page which you might like to visit <https://www.facebook.com/www.NCRPA.org/>. For those of you who don’t remember, we do have a lobbyist at the state legislature who looks after our gun rights. He works very closely with the NRA representative who promotes the NRA-ILA vision for our rights on the state level.

I challenge all of you, get out and enjoy your rights on the range, bring your friends, neighbors and kids along. Share your love of country, love of shooting and love of family. Encourage your fellow gunowners to join our cause in keeping our common activity safe and available for our future American generation.

See you guys and gals next time around. WALT

How far will North Carolina fall behind on gun rights?

Ray Nothstine
in Carolina Journal Opinion
January 25, 2021

In the forthcoming print edition of Carolina Journal, I make the case that the General Assembly should expand Second Amendment protections in North Carolina. I won't give the entire piece away, but N.C. is no longer a top state for gun rights. Unlike many states with Republican-controlled legislatures, the Jim Crow-era pistol permit process still remains here, and North Carolina hasn't passed constitutional carry. Constitutional carry simply allows for the open or concealed carry of a handgun without a state-issued permit. Those that exercise that right still have to pass federal background checks to purchase a firearm and follow all applicable state and federal laws.

A woman safely practices shooting a pistol at a range in north Idaho.

Missouri and West Virginia overrode vetoes from Democrat governors within the past five years to become constitutional carry states. Outside of North Carolina and certainly Virginia (which has gone backward), the Southeast has been particularly aggressive in expanding an inherent right. Guns & Ammo magazine ranked North Carolina 32nd in the nation for its Second Amendment protections. Obviously, this isn't even in the top half of states.

According to ABC News, Montana, Tennessee, and Utah are now on the verge of passing constitutional carry. Sixteen states already allow for carrying concealed without a special permit.

This quote from ABC News piece highlights the fact the legislation simply benefits those that already follow the law, not the criminals:

"I have that right to protect myself, the Constitution says we have the right. Why are we putting a barrier for law-abiding citizens?" said Rep. Walt Brooks, the Republican lawmaker sponsoring the bill that got an early nod of approval from a House committee Friday. The software company president has represented rural southern Utah for about four years.

The ABC News article also mentions a 2018 report that relaxing concealed-carry laws showed no uptick in murders or violent crime. Getting rid of the county pistol permit process that has a well-documented racist history should be the first step by the General Assembly.

North Carolinians need to continually ask their lawmakers why other states are passing them on the Second Amendment and why those residents are more deserving of an inherent right?

NRA GUN SAFETY RULES

I'm sure everyone already knows and obeys the rules, but a bit of a refresher never hurts.

The fundamental NRA rules for safe gun handling are:

ALWAYS

Keep The Gun Pointed In A Safe Direction

This is the primary rule of gun safety. Common sense dictates the safest direction, depending on different circumstances.

ALWAYS

Keep Your Finger Off The Trigger Until Ready To Shoot

When holding a gun, rest your finger alongside the frame and outside the trigger guard. Until you are actually ready to fire, do not touch the trigger.

ALWAYS

Keep The Gun Unloaded Until Ready To Use

If you do not know how to open the action or inspect the chamber(s), leave the gun alone and get help from someone who does.
